

BLUEBERRIES

by Jérôme Luc Martin

Start small, if you begin at all.
Blue whales begin as blueberries.
The redwood trees that grow so tall
start small. If you begin at all,
remember that – before they squall –
the snowy blizzards start as flurries.
So, start small when you begin it all.
Blue whales begin as blueberries.

